

This "sealed bag of cash" model simplifies your game economy and creates a secure trade mechanic.

The "Sealed Harvest Bag" System

Instead of minting thousands of loose micro-tokens for every individual swing, the completion of a full harvest creates a single, sealed asset—a Harvest Bag (or Coin Sack) containing a fixed, verified amount of Gold or Silver.

How It Works Mechanically and Cryptographically

1. Minting the Sack: The instant an area is 100% harvested, the smart contract on tricurse.com mints a single token representing that specific harvest yield (e.g., 1x Vow Gold Sack [Value: 50 Gold]).
2. The "Sealed" State: As long as the bag remains sealed, its contents are immutable and verifiable on the blockchain ledger.
3. P2P Transfer: Players can list or send the entire sealed bag directly to another player on tricurse.com for crypto (USDC/SOL/ETH) or trade it for other goods. Because the bag cannot be partially opened or altered, the receiving player has 100% cryptographic proof that the bag contains its full value.
4. Opening / Unsealing: If a player chooses to unseal the bag to spend the Gold/Silver at an in-game NPC shop on addr.bar, the token burns/converts into raw in-game balance[cite: 2].

Why This Design Is Superior

- Drastically Lower Gas Fees: Minting a single "Sealed Sack" asset at the end of a full harvest costs a fraction of a cent on networks like Solana or Polygon, compared to updating thousands of micro-coin balances on-chain.
- Pure Anti-RNG & Anti-Cheat Security: Because the bag is only generated when the game server confirms a 100% area harvest completion, players cannot fake partial harvests or tamper with the bag's value.
- Prevents Splitting Fraud: Treating the harvest payout as an un-splittable unit ("like a bag of cash") eliminates complex micro-accounting during trades. Players buy or sell the complete output of a field's labor in one clean transaction[cite: 2].

What kind of visual representation or metadata should these sealed bags have on tricurse.com (e.g., displaying the regional band origin like Nov, Vow, Vid, or Pix where it was harvested)?
